RAIN!

Drought - breaking rains left three inches of moisture on much of Randall County since Wednesday, bolstering hopes for a better-than-anticipated sorghum harvest and for a good wheat crop.

The rains fell slowly and without washing away valuable top soil, the first such gully-washers since last August of any consequence.

They began Wednesday and continued intermittently through noon Saturday.

Wednesday rains in Canyon totalled .27 inches. On Thursday, the city received .87 inches, Friday saw .65 inches fall and through Saturday morning, the city had received 1.16 inches of rain, which fell steadily through the night.

For the week, the city received 2.92 inches of moisture, comparing favorably with reported moisture from other parts of the county.

Until Friday night, the Happy area had received about 3 inches and took in another .90 Friday night and Saturday morning.

A total of 5.2 inches of rain has fallen at Palo Duro Canyon State Park since August rains began about two weeks ago. During the night Friday, the park recorded .80 inches of moisture.

Only western and southwestern portions of the county have been slighted by the dark clouds which have blocked the sun for the past week.

Umbarger received .52 inches Friday night and early Saturday and had recorded only 1.26 inches for the week.

One farmer whose farm is southwest of Canyon reported he received no early week rains and only smatterings of the moisture which fell near week's end.

The two weeks of rain have already broken records for the month of August according to unofficial News sources. For the month to date, Canyon has received 6.88 inches of moisture.

That is more than ever received through 1972, according to the sources. Normal rainfall for August is 2.58 inches.

The most rainfall unofficially recorded during August was 6.76 inches in 1906. A total of 6.56 inches was recorded in 1883.

It was during August of 1973 that rains began to fall off after a winter of rain which spurred growth of a record wheat crop that year.

Until August 1 this year, the city had received fewer than six inches of rain since last August.

The drought played havoc with what began as a good wheat crop last year, a crop which did not make. It also caused problems for farmers who were forced to plant a maize crop with inadequate subsoil moisture.

While the maize crop production this year is still a question mark with several months of growth remaining before fall harvest, the rains will aid a parch-

Crystal ball cloudy on WTSU enrollment

The crystal ball is still cloudy in predicting fall enrollment for West Texas State University, plagued along with many of the nation's other colleges by sagging head-count for the last few years, but several indicators give cause for an amount of reserved optimism.

"I'll give my prediction on the 12th class day," Dr. Roland Cates, registrar and dean of admissions, said Thursday. The 12th class day is the time when the official head-count for the fall term is burped up by computer for use by the state.

"If I had a prediction I wouldn't be afraid to give it to you," Cates said, "but, it would be just an uneducated guess."

But, Cates would back himself far enough on a limb to suggest he'd be disappointed and surprised if enrollment declined much under the enrollment recorded at the university last fall.

The 12th class day report for 1973's fall term indicated a head-count enrollment of 6782 students, up 200 from the 1972 count of 6575. But, Cates warned following the presentation of those figures that full-time student equivalents could be down, the figure which really counts for state funding of the university.

Cates said, likewise, he would be surprised if the university experienced a great increase in the number of students who report for classes.

Registration for the university begins Friday and ends Saturday. Classes begin Sept. 3.

"I don't see a large change percentage-wise up or down," Cates said. And, he said he'd be happy to see the enrollment stabilized, altered from a dropping pattern established for several years after the university hit a peak enrollment of nearly 8000 in 1969.

The registrar said some signs are hopeful the situation has stabilized and might climb somewhat for the year. One such sign is the number of freshman applications processed by his office.

So far, he said, his office has received about 125 more freshman applications than were processed last fall.

The number of students who have shown an interest in transferring from junior colleges or other senior colleges has remained static.

While these may be positive indicators, Cates believes the agricultural economy of the Panhandle also impacts on the university's enrollment.

He says that, knowing that the 1974 wheat crop was generally a loss for Panhandle farmers and the cattle industry ups and downs have also hurt agricultural interests here.

"This is the most discouraging thing," he said. "I'm encouraged by the freshmen but look at what happened to the wheat crop and the cattle market."

Cates believes there is a correlation between the success of agriculture crops and the ability of farm children to attend colleges.

Another indicator of at least a stabilized enrollment is demand for dormitory rooms by men and women students.

Dean of Men Weldon Trice said nearly every men's residence hall on campus is filled to capacity.

"It's better than it was this time last year," he said. "We're quite a ways ahead."

The same is true of the women's residence halls.

Associate Dean of Student Life Saundra Meek said her office is already handling overflow applications for student housing on campus.

In an effort to meet the needs of the women students who want to live in dormitories, Miss Meek said the north wing of Stafford Hall, a men's dormitory in the past, will be converted to accommodate women students.

She said the number of students seeking housing is above the number for 1973, but not significantly.

About 2000 students live in the men's and women's residence halls during the academic year.

In Canyon, the demand for housing is, as usual, exceeding supply, according to Chamber of Commerce officials.

More than two weeks ago, long before the opening of the fall term, chamber officials noted a critical shortage of rental units for students and in-coming faculty members.

Freshmen and sophomore students at the university will register for classes from 8 a.m. to 1:20 a.m. Friday with sophomores, juniors and graduate students enrolling from 1:20 to 4:20 p.m. Friday and from 8:20 a.m. to 10:40 a.m. Saturday.

Registration procedures will be at the university activities center.

Residence halls will open Tuesday and college entrance exams will be administered to beginning freshmen from 7:45 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in room 201 of the university complex south. A general faculty meeting is scheduled at 10:30 a.m. in the fine arts building auditorium.

In addition to the classes offered on campus this fall, the university will also offer 31 night courses at the Amarillo center, Bonham Junior High.

Dr. James A. Hanson, new director of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon, chats with retiring director Boone McClure, who stands in the Museum's 1915 popcorn wagon. As the last feature in their Sunday afternoon series, the Museum will fire up the wagon and pass out free popcorn from 2:30 - 4:30 p.m. today. The wagon will be located inside the Museum Annex on the first floor.

Newcomers waiting for telephones

An inordinate amount of residential turn-over in Canyon this summer has put Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. officials behind schedule in installation of service for many newcomers, Manager Mike Patrick said last week.

Patrick said the period just before the opening of fall classes at West Texas State University is always a hectic time for telephone installers, but this summer the entire summer has been unusually busy.

To meet the demand for new phone service, installers and workmen from as far away as San Antonio are due in Canyon to help relieve the jammed schedule.

Patrick's comments were in answer to complaints received by The News that telephone installation in some instances was being delayed for as long as six weeks for new residents.

The manager, who offices in Hereford, said the six-week waiting period is not usual for the Canyon service office, but is of necessity this time of year because of the turn-over in residences throughout the summer and the anticipated major influx of students to attend WTSU classes.

He said the phone company has been taking orders for installation of new residential phones around Oct. 1.

Patrick said the phone company usually experiences a lag in business between the opening of the first summer term and the opening of the fall term. This year, though, the lag did not come. Likewise, service demands from Amarillo have been heavy this summer, he said.

"We don't have that many employees to go around," he said.

Patrick said workers have been sent to Canyon from Hereford to help in the installation of phones

Anti-freeze supplies short here; prices to zoom for winter period

Anti-freeze supplies for Canyon area motorists are expected to be critically low this winter, local dealers said last week.

Prices of the radiator additives are also expected to be about two times the amount paid last winter.

While the shortages could cause problems for individual motorists, heavy governmental users of anti-freeze have apparently foreseen the problem and made alternate arrangements to ensure adequate supplies for their automobiles.

"According to our sources of supply, anti-freeze will be critical this winter," Roscoe Richardson, owner of Umbarger Farm Supply, said. "It seems as though everybody is scrounging everywhere they can."

Richardson's comments were typical of those of dealers in the area.

He said his firm has already been given a quota, reflecting the amount which manufacturers will ship him for sale.

His supply will be off by about 40 cases of anti-freeze at his Umbarger store for the coming winter.

Don Sheets, manager of Consumer's Fuel in Canyon, confirmed this winter's availability of anti-freeze could be extremely critical.

He said he ordered a transport load of the fluid for sale this winter last spring.

"We've been getting calls from a lot of companies to buy from us," he said, "but we're going to wait until we get our local people taken care of."

A local service station operator, Jim Martin of Jim's Gulf, said he's already received as much anti-freeze for the winter as he'll be able to purchase from suppliers. This year, he said, he received 28 cases as compared to 50 cases delivered last winter.

The assistant manager of Gibson's Discount Center in Canyon noted they have ordered supplies of anti-freeze and are expecting to be able to meet demands.

Apparently, the shortage is linked to the unavailability of raw materials for the petroleum product.

Richardson said he's been told that at least two manufacturers of anti-freeze have ceased production of the product this year and that others are finding raw materials for the liquid in critical shortage. Others, he said he's been told, have found it more lucrative to produce other types of products rather than anti-freeze.

As a result of the shortage, prices are expected by local dealers to zoom skyward for the fall.

Last year, anti-freeze sold for under $2 per gallon. This fall, the price is expected to jump from between $4 and $6 per gallon.

Richardson speculated the anti-freeze could run between $4.25 and $5 per gallon this win-

Hearing on school budget due Tuesday for public

Formal budget hearing for local residents to air their opinions about the 1974-75 expenditures and revenues for the Canyon school district is scheduled at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at the high school.

The budget is expected to be given final approval at the session by school board members.

This year's school operating budget calls for an increase of 10 cents in the tax rate — from $1.75 to $1.85 per $100 on 40 percent of valuation.

The tax increase will be effective with statements local residents receive this October and November from the joint city-school tax office.

The bulk of an over $300,000 increase in anticipated expenditures in the budget goes toward a teacher salary hike mandated by the state legislature.

Expenditures for the 1974-75 budget total $2,808,761. That compares with an expenditure figure of $2,447,547 for 1973-74.

Income for the operating budget is expected to match expenditures through the tax increase.

Main item in the expenditures for the school district is instructional salaries and related expenses. That item in 1974-75 is anticipated to total $1.73 million, compared to the same item expenditures of $1.578 million for 1973-74.

Oddly enough, though, the instructional expenditures will total 61.6 percent of the total operating budget this year while in 1973-74, the expenditures for instruction totalled 63.7 percent of the total budget.

Payroll for instructors this year will amount to more by itself than the entire instructional budget for the last academic year, with $1.58 allocated for use in that area this year.

A major jump in expenditures has also been noted for the coming year in transportation costs, primarily due to rising costs of gasoline to operate school buses and other school-owned vehicles.

Facing the $330,000 deficit possibility this fall, Supt. Jerry Jacobs was forced to recommend the tax hike due to a lack of like rise in the district tax base and in support from the state.

Current taxes for the year are expected to bring revenue totalling $958,107 this year, as compared to revenues generated from that source last year of $862,836. Delinquent tax collections are expected to bring in another $22,000 this year.

Other local revenue, including funds from tuition fees, interest from investments and other fees, should total about $60,660, according to budget figures.

State revenue sources add $1.75 million to the school budget, more this year than sent the local district in 1973-74. That figure was $1.59 million last year.

Jacobs has said the district will not anticipate a promised special appropriation expected to be passed by Texas legislators when they begin their session in January. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby had told The News recently the Governor will ask the legislature to pass a special bill to add an additional $35 per student for school district state aid.

Jacobs has said the additional funding could keep taxes static for another year.

Pond will release budget Monday after two refusals

County Judge Woody Pond said Friday he will release Monday a copy of the 1975 proposed operating budget for the county, after twice refusing to allow the budget to be given the press.

Pond said commissioners will be given the opportunity to discuss the budget proposals during their regular meeting at 1 p.m. Monday.

At that time, copies of the preliminary budget will be made available, he said.

Pond, during the last two commission meetings, has refused to give copies of his budget proposals to the press, even though he has given copies to commissioners.

Pond usually prepares the budget proposals along with County Auditor Betty Hodges for presentation to the commissioners.

Another major item will also face commissioners during their Monday meeting.

Bill Francis of the Amarillo accounting firm of Doshier, Francis and Pickens, will discuss a systems and performance audit by his office of the various offices in the courthouse.

Francis was asked to perform the audit last winter by commissioners, concerned with the rising prices in operation of the various offices.

The audit by Francis was to have gone into the jobs required of the personnel in each office and the efficiency with which the jobs were accomplished.

He was also to have come up with a proposed wage and salary schedule which would be implemented to update the county's personnel pay policies.

Bob Davis of Columbian Securities and Art Vaughan, Amarillo architect, will be on hand to discuss with commissioners the avenues available for construction of a courthouse annex in South Amarillo.

Davis agreed early last week

Agriculture main, but untapped, city industry

Canyon residents mistakenly believe West Texas State University provides the primary undergirding for the city's economy and with that misconception have failed to make adequate plans for the future of the city, a research study completed by a WTSU graduate student indicates.

Agriculture, the report states, is far and away the major factor in the economic well-being of Canyon.

The master's thesis of James W. Hanks, who received his MA in economics this summer from the university, studies the economic bases of Canyon, analyzes those bases and makes recommendations to fully utilize the bases available.

An underlying premise in the Hanks study is that tourism, the university and agriculture provide the main economic mainstays for city businesses. A section of his study is devoted to each.

Major factors isolated in tourism were the "TEXAS" outdoor musical drama presented each summer in Palo Duro Canyon's Pioneer Amphitheatre. In 1973, the study reports, revenue from the drama totalled over $300,000 and has shown a general increase in recent years.

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum is also a tourist attraction, but produces only minimal direct income for itself. Major income produced by the museum would be in the gasoline and restaurant sales associated with visits to the area.

The impact of Buffalo Lake is likewise minimal at this time, Hanks says.

"In summary, the impact on the economic base of Canyon due to tourism is currently minor," he says. "There are few hard figures but all agree that the influence of tourism as an export sector at this time is small."

Hanks refutes the 1970 Comprehensive Plan Report prepared for the city by Marvin Springer, a Dallas city planner, in Springer's conclusion that education is Canyon's most important and lasting industry.

"A more conservative and realistic measure of the total impact of West Texas State University on Canyon's economy is approximately five and one-half million dollars," the Hanks study states.

That estimate is based on the amount of money local householders, polled as a part of the study, and students spend in the city that they receive through wages or through attendance at the university.

University vendor files indicate about $2.3 million is spent in the city.

"Salaries and wages with the mean and household expenditures factor applied is approximately $2.7 million. . ." Hanks says.

The exact impact of agriculture is also hard to measure, Hanks says, but through interviews, polls and examination of bank records, he believes the main economic base for the city lies in the agricultural sector.

"This author estimates that at least 20 per cent of farm income goes into the Canyon economy," he says. "Ten to 16 million dollars for 1972-73 is assumed.

Thus, Hanks concludes, agriculture is far above education as an economic base for the city, although he notes that Canyon would reap much more from the agriculture economy if farm implements and farm supply services were readily available in the city.

A major portion of Hanks' survey deals with an opinion poll he submitted for responses to urban Canyon residents, WTSU students and rural postal box holders, and city businessmen.

The poll indicates a major contradiction in the desire of local residents for active solicitation of industry.

The firm, households and students wanted industry for Canyon by a large majority.

But, when asked if they desired the city to remain small, the majority responded with yes.

"These two areas are basically opposed to

Our World

Away From Rocky

By ANN BROWN

The Ford administration may go down in history as having had the shortest political "honeymoon" on record.

Even a casual examination of the lives of Gerald Ford and Nelson Rockefeller makes them about the strangest political bedfellows imaginable.

Ford is from the hardworking middle class.

Rockefeller was born a millionaire.

Ford is devoted to the wife of his youth and their four children.

Rockefeller is divorced.

Ford has always advocated the traditional, conservative, hardworking American policies that built the best, most progressive, productive society in the world.

Rockefeller is the arch liberal who governed New York for 15 years. During his tenure the state budget quadrupled, and New York City turned into a ghetto of crime, pornography, and welfarism. (Now they want the other states to bail them out).

Rockefeller fathered the Health, Education, and Welfare Dept.; big spending on the state level, and he signed into law the nation's first abortion-on-demand statute.

Ford never sought the Presidency, but was chosen by President Nixon and confirmed by the Senate as the man best suited for the place, and the people acclaimed him.

Rockefeller made two desperate and ineffective, expensive bids for the White House.

Ford recommends a strong national defense.

Rockefeller advocates a world government.

The liberals who pressured Ford to choose Rockefeller insist he has changed; he's not the radical he used to be.

The conservatives ask with the prophet Jeremiah, "Can the Ethiopean change his skin, or the leopard his spots?" (Jer. 13:23).

Ford's nomination of Rockefeller can mean only one of two things: He was either coerced or persuaded into selecting a man he knows covets his position, and whose every ideal is diametrically opposed to everything the President holds dear.

Why did he do it?

Ford's declaration that he believes Rockefeller will be "a good partner for me . . . for our country and the world," sounded as hollow as an echo in a tunnel.

What evidence can the President offer that this incarnation of Eastern liberalism will be good for our Country? Look what he did for New York.

Many of us still remember the vociferous praises Gov. Rockefeller sang for the sit-ins in the South, forced busing, social welfare, one-worldism, and permissiveness of all kinds.

Jeffrey Hart said relative to the much-touted change in the nominee for Vice President that the "1960-vintage Nelson Rockefeller would be about as welcome in the post-1964 Republican Party as a skunk in a submarine, and he has at least had the sense to realize it."

Does that convince any rational American that Rockefeller has changed his stripes?

What can we do?

We can practice 11 Chron. 7:14. And the first wicked way we need to turn from is Nelson Rockefeller.

We can deluge the Senate with telegrams demanding they refuse to confirm a man the Republican Party has repeatedly rejected.

We may have been denied the privilege of voting on the President and Vice President, but we can still vote on the senators.

Every conservative who keeps silent for this outrage forfeits all rights to throw stones at the President.

Letter To The Editor

Gentlemen:

We received a letter from David yesterday and he says to "Keep the Canyon News coming," it means so much to receive news from Canyon, since he is so far away.

David is in Stuttgardt, Germany and says the country is beautiful, it rains everyday. He sings in the VII Corps chorus and enjoys it very much. He has one more year of the Army until September of 1975.

Please send the paper to:

Thank you very much,
Mrs. Wm. F. Schuette

Dear Carroll:

I wish the interview had not been so brief. I enjoyed it.

Sincerely,

Those Awful Ads

By CARROLL WILSON

As grade-schoolers, Shelton Saddoris and I had sneaked a Winston from his mother's purse one summer afternoon and raced to the alley behind his yellow-stucco garage, nervously sucking and blowing, madly dispersing the tell-tale white plume which, when unnoticed, wafted upward over the garage to call our position and activity. No one saw and Shelton and I guiltily stamped out our first encounter with tobacco.

A pack of Salems, I recall a dozen years later, would last the four of us only one night at the drive-in.

The Surgeon General had not yet spoken, cigarettes were still only a small vice, and they burned mightily as the smoke seeped deep into adolescent lungs.

It was in the front seat of that unsafe-at-any-speed Corvair that I got hooked on an equally unsafe habit that's cost me untold hundreds of dollars in the last 12 years and which, some say, will eventually do me in.

I sit at the typewriter and puff cigarette after cigarette. They're a comfort to me. I'm not yet to the hacking-cough stage, the craving-in-the-middle-of-the - night stage.

Two weeks ago, we sat in a restaurant, briefly scanned the menu and sat talking quietly during that interlude between the time you order and the time you eat and I reached into my shirt pocket to have a pre-meal smoke. The match had just reddened the tip.

"Daddy," my four-year-old said imploringly and with saddened eyes, "don't smoke. It's going to kill you."

For all these four years, smoking, I guess, was a part of Daddy, one of his mannerisms, something as much Daddy as his glasses.

The feeling my daughter's comment evoked must be something akin to the feeling former President Nixon must have experienced as he sat confidently in his Oval Office reviewing tape recordings of earlier conversations and came across the words of his own voice ordering a cover-up, words which did him in.

"Don't you worry about it," I told daughter D'Arcy. "Drink your coke."

"But, they are going to kill you," she retorted. Like her mother, she must have the final word.

"How do you know?"

"It said so on TV."

Ah, the culprit.

"What're they doing on TV?" I asked my wife.

"Oh, they have an ad just before and after Sesame Street about smoking," she said. "Pretty effective isn't it?" she added with the smile of a woman who's been harping about a habit for eight years.

With only one puff taken, I smashed the two-inch long stub in the ashtray.

For two weeks now, I've been sneaking around to smoke at home. My daughter has replaced my parents as conscience, and I spend long minutes in the bathroom perched on the edge of the bathtub, depositing ashes in the commode and watching the smoke curl around the light fixture. Not much pleasure in that kind of smoking.

Last night I forgot. D'Arcy curled up beside me to watch a snatch of a class B movie and I instinctively pulled a cigarette from my shirt pocket and lit up.

"You're going to die," D'Arcy said morbidly. "If you keep smoking, you're going to die. You are. Please don't smoke, Daddy."

"This is subversive," I grimaced to my wife.

"I know," she smiled.

If television advertisers need some outlet for moral statements, I've got some ideas for them.

Why don't they put out an ad aimed at four-year-olds that goes something like this: A beautiful ballerina comes out on camera on tippy toes and then turns to her pre-school audience. "Hi," she might say. "I'm Beverly Ballerina, the famous dancer. If you want to grow up big and strong to be a ballerina like me, you should eat all your cereal at breakfast and all your lunch and dinner."

Or, she might say: "Hi, I'm Beverly Ballerina, the famous dancer. See how shiny and white and clean my teeth are. If you want your teeth to be white and shiny like mine, you should brush them after every meal."

Or: "Hi, I'm Beverly Ballerina, the famous dancer. I grew up to be big and strong because I didn't harrass my daddy about his terrible habits."

Undoubtedly, while the above advertisements would certainly help Mommy and Daddy get little junior to do what's best for him, it might be taking unfair advantage of junior, right?

But, apparently, parents and their habits are open game for do-gooder advertisers.

I don't appreciate it. But, I'm now finishing up my last pack of cigarettes. They got me where it hurt.

Letter Will Go To Potter Co. On Take-over

County commissioners are expected Monday to sign a letter to Potter County Sheriff T.L. Baker complimenting him for his handling of last week's jail take-over in that county.

The letter expresses wholehearted support for the action taken under Baker's direction to put down the insurrection.

Copies of the letter have already been signed by County Judge Woody Pond and Randall County Commissioner Paul Lindsey.

The letter reads:

"The Randall County Commissioners Court would like to take this opportunity to commend you and your personnel in the effective manner in which you handled the situation that you had in the Potter County Jail where some of your deputies were held captive by some of the prisoners.

"We regret, as you do, that someone had to lose their life to correct this type of situation, but we wholeheartedly support the manner in which you handled this matter, and we would again like to commend you and all of your personnel, and thank you for doing such a fine job."

Copies of the letter will go to Baker, Potter County Judge Branch Archer and the Potter County commissioners.

ter and Sheets said the price will run above $4 per gallon.

Even with the shortages, dealers feel the supply of anti-freeze for the Canyon area will be adequate to serve the needs of locals.

"I think there'll be enough if people don't get excited," Richardson said.

For governmental units, with large numbers of trucks, buses and cars to maintain through the winter, the shortage will pose few problems.

City Manager George Loudder said officials purchased a reserve stock of anti-freeze last fall and will be required to purchase only a small quantity this year to meet city vehicle needs.

Joe West, Randall County road maintenance superintendent, said he purchased a winter supply for the county's vehicles earlier this summer at under $2 per gallon.

Allen Sparks, garage foreman for the school district, said the school has not yet purchased its supply of anti-freeze but has been told by its supplier that adequate quantities will be available. Sparks expects to have to pay about $4.50 per gallon.

and to help check out phones in the dormitories at WTSU.

Other workers are expected to be brought in to help with the problem from the San Antonio district.

He said he hopes telephone installation can be promised for new residents within two weeks rather than six weeks with the addition of the extra employees.

New homes in Canyon have been going up and selling with increasing rapidity in the city this summer. About 2000 students will come to Canyon early this week to occupy dormitory rooms for fall classes at the university and hundreds of other students will seek housing in the city in rental properties.

Trustees To Have Closed Meet

Much of the discussion on possible annexation of about 50 acres of land by the Amarillo School District could be conducted behind closed doors when County School Trustees meet Thursday.

County Judge Woody Pond announced last week the trustees are expected to call an executive session to discuss with Dist. Atty. George Dowlen a lawsuit filed last month by several property owners in the Canyon School District.

Pond said while the discussion of the lawsuit may be handled behind closed doors an item will still be left on the agenda for discussion of the possible annexation of the 50-acre tract from the Canyon district to the Amarillo district.

School trustees are not expected to make a decision on the annexation issue during the Thursday meeting, however. They are still waiting for two rulings from the state Attorney General on their role in the annexation decision and on the legality of elections held last spring for the election of several trustees.

Several property owners in the Glendale subdivision, which lies just south of the line which separates the two school districts, filed suit last month asking Dist. Judge Gene Jordan to declare the elections of three board members invalid. The suit also asks Jordan to either force the trustees to make a decision on the annexation question, which has been pending for nearly a year, or to make the decision himself.

The district attorney's staff has concluded that the lawsuit has no standing to be heard in district court. An answer to the suit, filed by Dowlen's office, contends the proper avenues for appeal on the decision have not yet been pursued.

The trustees are also to discuss the 1974-75 budget for their operations, and school bus routes for the Canyon school district.

Pond. . .

that funding of the full amount likely to be asked to construct the annex could cause a hike in county taxes.

Vaughan told commissioners last week they might be able to obtain a low bid for the construction of around the $550,000 mark. Bids turned in last month were in the $650,000 range.

Commissioners had planned to spend about $300,000 for the construction.

each other," Hanks says. "Here the paradox is obvious."

Through use of the poll, Hanks also made several recommendations on economic areas which need improvement in the city.

"Many dollars are escaping full utilization in Canyon," the study states. "Raw products in the agricultural sector are being shipped out and other areas are capitalizing on this aspect. . . This community has let others make profit that could be kept in Canyon."

In addition, Hanks notes that many of the vendors who do business with WTSU are in Amarillo or other areas, reaping profits for their towns that could be available to merchants in Canyon.

The survey also revealed the need for improvements in the business sector, Hanks says.

"Local businessmen and firms need to re-establish rapport with the local populace and modernize some of the local business physical plants," he states. "Additionally, selection of goods needs to be reviewed. Numerous comments in the (poll) questionnaire believed that prices in Canyon were not competitive to those in Amarillo. Adequate clothing stores and entertainment facilities were areas that Canyon residents wanted."

In conclusion, Hanks suggests that area agricultural, business and educational leaders, along with city officials, get together and meet jointly to begin a 10-year plan for the city's economic growth.

Copies of the Hanks thesis have been distributed to county and city officials as well as to the Chamber of Commerce.

The Canyon News

The Canyon News, founded in 1896, is an independent newspaper dedicated to the best interest of the community, state and nation.

Grant Given University

The Law Enforcement Education Program has granted West Texas State University $14,400 to provide educational scholarships for full-time criminal justice personnel.

"This money will go to cover tuition, fees and books for law enforcement personnel who wish to continue their education," said Cliff Baker, director of student financial aids.

Baker said that the money would be divided into portions of $7,200 to provide assistance to full- and part-time students each semester of the upcoming academic year 1974-75.

Individuals interested in the scholarships must already be working in the criminal justice field, and must major in law enforcement-related curriculums, which "does not include pre-law or pre-med programs," Baker observed.

"We hope that law enforcement personnel will take this opportunity to further their education," the financial aids officer said.

For more information about the qualifications, contact the Office of Student Financial Aids, West Texas State University, Telephone 656-3911.

Registration for West Texas State University classes will be held Aug. 30-31, Friday and Saturday, at the WTSU Student Activities Center. Extensive evening classes are available. Direct all inquiries to the Dean of Admissions and Registrar, WTSU, Telephone 656-3331.

New SID Named At WTSU

Bill Cousins, who has been assigned to cover athletics at New Mexico State University and Texas League baseball for the past year and one-half for the El Paso Times, has been hired as sports information director at West Texas State University.

The 25-year-old Cousins worked for one year as an assistant sports information director at New Mexico State University under Sonny Yates, who is now the assistant director of the Sun Carnival Association in El Paso.

Cousins will report to work at West Texas State within two weeks.

The new sports information director graduated from Hobbs, N.M., High School in 1967. While in high school he worked as a sports writer for two years for the Hobbs Sun News.

Cousins attended New Mexico Junior College in Hobbs for two years and continued to work as a sports writer for the Sun News. He also did sports information director work for New Mexico Junior College.

He attended New Mexico State University for two years, graduating in 1971. While at the Las Cruces school he served as sports director for radio stations KRWG and KOBE, in addition to working for one year as an assistant SID.

In 1972 Cousins was the assistant general manager of the Albuquerque Dukes baseball team in the Pacific Coast League. The Dukes, a farm team of the Los Angeles Dodgers, won the league title that season.

For the past year and one-half he has been with the El Paso newspaper.

Cousins, who is married to the former Sandra Moynihan of Taos, N.M., has a three and one-half year old son, Craig. Cousins replaces Tommy Bryant at West Texas State. Bryant resigned recently to join the sports staff of the Amarillo Globe-News.

Physicals Given CJHS Football Squad

Five Canyon doctors gave free physicals to members of the Canyon Junior High Football team Thursday at the junior high school gym.

Principal David Corley stated that he wished to thank the doctors for giving their time for this endeavor. Corley stated that it took the five doctors approximately two hours to give the physicals.

Members of the Canyon High School Eagle varsity took time out Friday to pose for team pictures. The Eagles are picked to finish in first place in District 1-AAA. They are a highly spirited team under the direction of head coach Ron Mills. The Eagles will play their first game September 6 against Lubbock Monterrey here at 7:30 p.m.

Injury, Inexperience Plague Cowboy Scrimmage

The Happy Cowboys gave up three touchdowns and were unable to score during the scrimmage game against the Vega Longhorns held in Vega Thursday night. The Cowboys will also go without the services of Danny Bell for five or six weeks due to a neck injury.

Vega scored two touchdowns on offense and intercepted one Cowboy pass for their three touchdowns.

The first touchdown for Vega came during the first series of downs. According to Cleve Vessels, coach for the Happy Cowboys, the Happy defensive unit did not know what to expect in the early moments of the game and Vega scored on the third play. After that first touchdown, Vessels stated that the defensive unit tightened up and held the Longhorns to only short drives.

Under the controlled scrimmage conditions of the game, each team ran a series of twenty offensive plays. Two series were run during the game. Vega managed to score their second touchdown during the second series.

Both Vega touchdowns came on long yardage runs. The first TD was scored on a 60 yard run and the second came on an 80 yard run.

Vessels stated that the defensive unit over pursued the Vega offense. Vessels chocked it up as inexperience and a young ball club.

Vessels said that if one could do away with about four or five mistakes, it would have been a close game.

On offense the Cowboys were able to maintain two sustained drives to the Vega 40 yard line. Vessels said that the Cowboys' offense was able to get two long gains due to pass plays.

Vessels felt that the offensive unit should have moved the ball better and should have had more consistency.

He stated that the club did gain some valuable lessons during the scrimmage. He sees a need for the offensive line to come off the line with more speed at the snap of the ball. He stated that the defense will need to contain the opposition better if the games are to be won.

One bright point Vessels observed during the scrimmage was the hitting ability of his team. He stated that the Cowboys were hitting hard and fast during the game.

Bell, freshman member of the Cowboy squad, was rushed to Northwest Texas Hospital Thursday night following the scrimmage. It was thought at first that he might have broken his neck but it was found to be only a severe neck injury with nothing broken.

Also during the game, Johnny Payne re-injured his shoulder. The shoulder was first injured during the season last year. Pat Simms, senior end, stretched ligaments in his leg but should be able to play soon.

The junior varsity played to a 0-0 tie with the Vega JVs.

Two Buffs Will Not Return

Two Buffalo football players will not be returning for the 1974 football season according to Tommy Bryant, sports information director at WTSU. Another Buffalo will return after a one year gap.

Juan Garza, senior linebacker from Alamo, will not return this season because of his study load. Garza, an accounting major at WT, had been switched to the outside linebacker spot during spring drills.

Tony Gorman, a senior defensive tackle from Hereford, married during the summer and will not return. Gorman, a two year starter with the Buffaloes, will continue his schooling and work part-time.

Allen Mullins, a 6-5, 230-pound senior, will return to the Buff roster. Mullins, a one year letterman from Sunray, quit last year during the season. Mullins started as an offensive guard during his sophomore year.

Booster Club Meets Monday

The Canyon Booster Club will meet Monday evening at 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. All members are encouraged to be present according to Gary Fletcher, president of the booster club.

Fletcher stated that the club will discuss projects for the coming year. The booster club supports the Canyon Eagle athletic teams.

Tournament Cancelled

The Hunsley Hills weekly golf tournament sponsored by the Hunsley Hills Golf Association was cancelled this week due to rain.

The tournament will resume play Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Eagles Do Well Against Mustangs

The field was sloppy but the football was not when the Canyon High School Eagles played the Denver City Mustangs on the practice field in Morton Friday night.

The game was played following a deluge of rain that left Morton streets flooded. On the field the Eagles overcame the Denver City squad.

The varsity Eagles scored the only touchdown of the night in the controlled scrimmage game. Craig Johnson found not a hole, but a wide gap left by the Eagle line as the bulldozed the Mustangs to one side for Johnson to run the 60 yards needed for the TD. Johnson was able to outrun the secondary of the Mustang defense. Touchdowns do not count in scrimmage contests.

Coach Ron Mills stated that the field was too messy to get a real picture of the needs and/or strong points of the team. During the 45 minute contest, Jimmy Ward showed that he would again be plowing out the yardage for Canyon. Ward showed his strength and ability during the scrimmage.

Coach Mills commended the whole of the Eagle varsity. He stated that they all did a fine job. Mills stated that the Denver City team was not on the same caliber with the teams of the past two years, but that Denver City would offer strong competition in their district race.

No one was injured during the scrimmage and other than a few sore throats there should be little damage done to the team.

Dave Coronado stopped a touchdown threat when he intercepted a Mustang pass during the first 15 minutes of the game. Denver City was about to stage only short drives against the Eagle defense.

In the junior varsity game, both teams fought to a one touchdown each tie.

The Eagles will go back to the practice field this week in preparation for a scrimmage next Friday night against Friona in Friona. Action there will start at 6:30 p.m.

These scrimmage games are in preparation for the start of the 1974 regularly scheduled games which start Sept. 6 when the Eagles host Lubbock Monterey.

Buffs Off To Good Start In Workouts

Gene Mayfield, head coach for the WTSU Buffaloes, is well pleased with the first workouts experienced by the 95 member Buff squad.

The Buffaloes have had to work out in the activity center on the WTSU campus due to rainfall this week.

Mayfield feels that the Buffs are making good progress. He stated that players returned in pretty good condition but that their condition was being improved.

Mayfield is hoping to get outside soon. He stated that pads will be issued and used in Monday's practice. Monday is the first day for members of the Missouri Valley Conference team to wear pads.

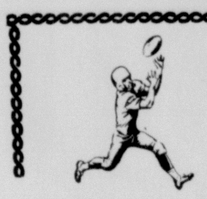
Dyer Is New Trainer At WT

Eddie Dyer is the new athletic trainer for the WTSU Buffaloes.

Dyer went to Hardin-Jefferson High School in South Lake, Tex., where he was a student trainer and manager for four years. He was also athletic trainer at the University of Texas at Austin for five years under the nationally known trainer, Frank Medena. Medena has been at Texas for 27 years and has traveled with olympic teams.

Eddie Dyer

Dyer is a member of the National Trainers Association. He is licensed by the state of Texas as an athletic trainer. He is 23 years old and is single.



Sideline Views

By JIM ROGERS

At the Eagle scrimmage against Denver City, it looked as though only a handful of Canyon fans turned out to watch the game. When the rain stopped and all the Canyon people left their cars and walked to the edge of the practice field things looked different.

Though these scrimmage games do not count for much except playing experience, they are an important part of the football tradition.

The Eagles not only looked like a football team during the "wet and wild" scrimmage but their attitude and enthusiasm showed them to be district championship material.

This looks like the year of the Eagle. It would be good for the fans to begin now backing the Eagles for the coming season.

Why not travel with the Eagles to Friona for the next scrimmage game. The football will again be good and maybe, just maybe, it will be a little dryer.

The Canyon Booster Club will meet Monday evening. All members of the organization should be present as they will be discussing the projects for the coming year.

The rain drove the Buffalo in doors last week, the football team at WT that is. The Buffs used the open space of the activities center. It is good that they have this facility. The boys could begin to get used to the cleted shoes once again. They would have had to wear tennis shoes had they been confined to a gymnasium.

The new rating system for tennis looks as though it is only a way for someone to make money. The group that is pushing the rating system asks those who administer the rating test to pay $50 to be qualified to give the test. Those who give the test must ask for $5 per person who takes the test.

Like V.J. Duncan, coach at CHS, said; it is good for the week end player.

Local Tennis Coaches Take Look At New Rating System

The executive committee of the Texas Tennis Association has approved the adoption of the NTF Youth Tennis Grand Prix, which is a statewide tournament competition program for both boys and girls.

This is the fourth in a series of national programs currently being developed utilizing the NTF tennis rating system and implemented in several of the USLTA sections by the National Tennis Foundation.

Texas will be divided into eight zones and each zone into eight districts. A minimum of three rounds of competition will be scheduled this first year, with a round consisting of a district, zone and section tournament, within a time frame of six months.

David Kent, tennis coach at WTSU, stated that he has some reservations about the program. He stated that since the high school tennis programs are so well set, the Texas Tennis Association will find it difficult to set the program in motion outside of UIL support.

He stated that the new program has merit especially for the younger children wanting to get involved in tennis. Kent does feel, however, that tennis involvement for youngsters could be started within the frame work of Kids Inc. He stated that more children could become involved in tennis through Kids Inc. Canyon will be limited as to when it can incorporate tennis into the Kids Inc. program because of the lack of public tennis courts. At the present time, the public uses the courts at WTSU but these courts are now crowded and there would be little or no room for youngsters to use them as practice areas.

Presently the public, WTSU tennis team, WT students and the high school tennis team use the 14 courts at WTSU.

Kent stated that under the new TTA program, kids could get involved on a regional level but that in order to get more involved in the sport the local level must be emphasized.

Coach Kent also has questions about the testing program that rates the players. He stated that some players who are rated very low under the testing system are strong players when on the court in competition. He said that he would adopt a wait and see attitude. He wonders if the testing and playing ability will have any corrolation.

Kent is not sure how many Canyon youngsters will be affected by the rating system. He said that if the system caught on, then all would be affected if they desire to enter competitive play in the TTA program.

V.J. Duncan, tennis coach at Canyon High School, said that he felt the tennis rating system would be good for the week end tennis player. He stated that it would probably have little or no effect on high school tennis in the future.

Bonds Sales

June sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds amounting to $13,246 in Randall County were reported today by County Bond Chairman Don Max Vars.

Sales for the six-month period totaled $121,878 for 49% of the 1974 goal of $250,000.

Sales in Texas during the month amounted to $17,074,815 — while sales for the first half of 1974 totaled $116,443,089 with 49 % of the yearly goal of $236.8 Million goal achieved.

Accidents Reported

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated seven accidents on rural highways in Randall County during the month of July, 1974, according to Sergeant Clint Culp, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in five persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first seven months of 1974 shows a total of 73 accidents resulting in four persons killed and 65 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for July, 1974, shows a total of 485 accidents resulting in 18 persons killed and 280 persons injured as compared to June, 1973, with 658 accidents resulting in 21 persons killed and 366 persons injured. This was 173 less accidents, three less killed, and 86 less injured in 1974 at the same period of time.

The 18 traffic deaths for the month of July, 1974, occurred in the following counties: four in Deaf Smith; two each in Garza and Haskell; and one each in Oldham, Wilbarger, King, Palo Pinto, Dallam, Montague, Parker, Terry, Wise and Roberts.

Miss Teri Kay Heare

Miss Heare-Keeling Plan October 19 Vows

Mr. and Mrs. E.O. Stroup of 1825 Dogwood in Pampa and Mr. and Mrs. James Frank Heare of Miami, Texas jointly announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Teri Kay Heare, to Jimmy Ray Keeling, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.V. Moore of Canyon and H.L. Keeling of Denver, Colo.

Miss Heare is the granddaughter of Ray McReynolds and the late Mrs. McReynolds of Canyon and Mrs. B.C. Heare and the late Mr. Heare of Panhandle. She attended Amarillo College and West Texas State University and has recently been employed at Plains Chevrolet in Amarillo.

The prospective bridegroom studied three years at West Texas State University and was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity. He is self-employed in the insulation business.

Plans are being made for the wedding ceremony to be read October 19 in the home of the bride's mother in Pampa.

Former Family Announces Birth Of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Al Reaves of Gainesville, Fla. announce the Aug. 1 birth of a daughter, Kelly Renee, who weighed 5 pounds 13 ounces and measured 19¾ inches on arrival at the County Hospital in Gainesville.

The infant's father is on the staff at the University of Florida. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Conway Kuykendall of Canyon, and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Albert Reaves of Ft. Worth are the paternal grandparents.

Both sets of grandparents spent part of their vacations in Florida visiting their new granddaughter.

Suzanne Tenorio Honoree At Event

Suzanne Tenorio was honored recently with a surprise swimming party and backyard barbecue at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Tenorio, 15 Country Club Drive in Hunsley Hills addition.

Miss Tenorio was honored on the occasion of her 19th birthday. She is a sophomore journalism major at West Texas State University and graduated from Canyon High School in 1972.

About 16 special friends were present for the occasion along with Miss Tenorio's brothers, Ric, Gene and Michael, and her parents who served as host and hostess.

Miss Shepic Honored

Andrea Shepic, bride of Alfred Bayless was complimented with a bridal shower given in the home of Miss Lynnette Kirkley, 202 27th Street, on the evening of July 26.

Co-hostess with Miss Kirkley was Mrs. Jonathan Salmon of Amarillo.

Guests at the shower were the mother and grandmother of the bride, sorority sisters from Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, and Mrs. Gene Kirkley and Suzanne.

National Extension Home Economists To Award Becky Hall For Leadership

Sydney E. (Becky) Hall, Randall County Extension Agent (Home Economics) is one of six Texas Extension Home Economists who will receive the Distinguished Service Award at the National Extension Home Economists meeting in Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 24-27, 1974.

She is a member of National Extension Home Economists Association, Texas Extension Home Economists Association, American Home Economics Association, currently serving as Region J membership chairman of Texas Home Economics Association, District I Director, Alpha Zeta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Phi (Texas Chapter, National Honorary Extension Fraternity).

Thomas Winston Hall is Becky's husband and the couple has two sons, Shawn Winston Hall, age 15, and Thomas David Hall, age 13. They are members of the Central Church of Christ in Canyon.

Mrs. Hall attended Littlefield High School, received her BS degree in Home Economics Education from Texas Technological University. She has done post graduate work for professional improvement at Colorado State University, Texas Technological University, West Texas State University and taken mini-courses from Texas A&M University. She taught Home Economics at Littlefield High School for three years, has served as County Home Demonstration Agent in Howard County for 4 years, and for Briscoe County for 18 months before coming to Canyon. She is presently serving her seventh year as County Extension Agent for Randall County.

The Distinguished Service Award is being presented for leadership and outstanding service in committee work on the Food and Fiber Abundance and Appreciation exhibits in Randall County for 1972-73. Each year agricultural products exhibits were set up for tours during the Food and Fiber month of November. Randall County Judge Woody Pond served as chairman of the planning group. The Extension Agents, Mrs. Hall and John Brazzil, were executive committee members. Involved on the planning committee were representatives from the local newspaper, Canyon Chamber of Commerce, The Palo Duro Soil and Water Conservation District, The Farmers Union, Farm Bureau, Canyon Garden Club, feedlot industry, pork producers, dairy producers, Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, Happy Cow Belles, and principals from two elementary and one junior high schools in the Canyon School System.

Planning and promotion lasted six weeks. The goal was to show and tell our agriculture story to 1500 people in Randall County. In 1972, 2,000 people viewed, heard and tasted of our abundant food. The number increased to 2,800 in 1973.

Booths manned by representatives of the many commodities in Randall County showed various stages of production, processing, distribution and preparation of agricultural products.

Many people have expressed a greater understanding and appreciation of agricultural products. They also have a better understanding as consumers of the economical part farm producers and industry play in the cost of food.

This program has been a part of a county in-depth program in the area of Management of Resources to help in consumer information. The objective of the "Food and Fiber" Appreciation program was to make non-farm youth and adults in Randall County more aware of the great contribution agriculture makes to our lives.

Concern, Challenge, Commitment, is the 1974 NAEHE theme of the 40th annual meeting. The recognition dinner will be in The Hall of States in the Convention Center at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 26.

Members will have a choice of attending two of five Equation of Survival Workshops, planned to help Extension Home Economists develop skills in determining program perspectives. The workshops include: "It's All In The Family" dealing with family life; "Dietary Influences on Coronary Artery Diseases" on health; "What Will You Wear Tomorrow" about clothing; "Where Will You Live" about housing; and "Food — It's More Than What You Eat" on foods and nutrition.

The keynote address "What's Happened to the American Dream" will be presented by Dr. Lois A. Lund, Dean, College of Human Ecology at Michigan State University. Other speakers include Dr. Otis A. Maxfield on "Marketing The Human Potential in A Way That Has Relevance" and Edwin L. Kirby, Administrator, Federal Extension Service, United States Department of Agriculture. His topic will be "People Make The Difference in Determining Programs." Dr. Betty Siegel, Dean, Academic Affairs, Professor of Psychological Foundation, University of Florida, will speak on "It's Up To You" on Friday morning, Sept. 27.

Mrs. Hall will be one of fifty Texas members attending the National meeting.

Mary Lou Miller Earns Degree

Mary Lou Miller graduated in the top tenth of her graduating class at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos recently.

Mrs. Miller was named an Alpha Chi honor graduate and is active in Kappa Delta Pi education honor society. She received her degree in education and is a member of the Texas State Educators Association. Following the graduation, Mrs. Miller and husband, Mark, have moved to Austin where he will study in business communications at the University of Texas.

Attending the graduation from this area were Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parks of Canyon, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller of Tulia.

Also at graduation was her brother, Charles Warren Parks of Canyon, who then flew to New Orleans, La., for two weeks active duty with the Naval Reserve.

Mrs. Earnest Edward Douglass
nee Rhonda Fae Umberson

Rhonda Umberson Marries Earnest Edward Douglass

Canyon's Presbyterian Church was the site for the August 24 marriage of Miss Rhonda Fae Umberson and Earnest Edward Douglass which was read at 8 o'clock that evening by Paul Pape of Southwest Church of Christ.

The double ring ceremonies were read following a recital program of organ music which preluded the ceremony with Mrs. Janna Hogan as organist. She also presented appropriate processional and recessional selections and Miss Carla Swatzell sang It Seems I've Always Loved You and Walk Hand in Hand for the wedding ceremony.

White ribbons centered with white daisies decorated the main aisle of the church and each side of the altar was flanked with a spiral candelabrum bearing 15 white tapers trimmed with greenery, daisies and blue bows. The organ held an arrangement of daisies and baby's breath.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George E. Umberson, 409 Thompson Lane, Canyon. She is a 1974 graduate of Canyon High School and was enrolled at West Texas State University. The bride plans to continue her studies at Amarillo College this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy E. Douglass, 4400 South Hayden, Amarillo are parents of the bridegroom. He graduated from Amarillo High School in 1973 and is employed with United Food in Amarillo while continuing his studies at Amarillo College.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an evening length gown of sheer miramist over satin featuring a full circular designed skirt. The fitted midriff and latern sleeves featured a lace overlay with seed pearl accents and the jewel neckline was complemented with lace and pearls. Her cathedral length wedding veil had accenting lace edging and was held to an open framework of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white daisies with intermingled baby's breath.

Nikki McCarter of Canyon was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Carla Barton of Amarillo and Miss Janna Umberson, sister of the bride. The attendants wore matching floor length dresses of blue dotted swiss over taffeta. Their dresses featured full circular skirts with high waists which were belted with white ribbon and tailored with a back bow. White lace trimmed the jewel collars and short sleeves and each attendant had a blue dotted swiss ribbon centered with daisies in their hair. They carried white baskets of blue and white daisies with baby's breath and blue ribbons.

Flower girl was Miss Alicia Umberson, sister of the bride. She wore a sheer white dress featuring flocked daisies over blue with high waist styling and a white velvet belt with tailored back bow. The dress was designed with puffed sleeves and she carried a small basket of daisies for the occasion.

Tony Brady served as best man. Groomsmen in the ceremony were Steve Wallace and Robby Hays. Ushering guests were Randall Haggard and Paul Goodin.

The wedding reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church where the table was decorated with white net and blue lace and held a three tiered wedding cake trimmed with white daisies and wedding bells. A white basket of daisies flanked by blue candles highlighted the table as fruit punch was served by Sheryl Adams and Judy McBroom served the cake.

A groom's table was used for serving the coffee and chocolate pound cake to wedding guests. The table was draped in blue lace and featured silver appointments as Mrs. Debbie Hays, sister of the groom, presided at the table.

A pale blue pantsuit with white accessories was worn by the bride as the couple departed on a wedding trip to Red River, N.M. The couple will make their home at 4300 Prairie, Amarillo, after Aug. 30.

The couple and their wedding attendants were honored guests at the rehearsal dinner held in Amarillo at Chef Luis Restaurant. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy E. Douglass, were hosts for the dinner.

Clublife Activities Resuming In City For Many Local Women

Clublife for Canyon women is beginning again and this year the Canyon News is giving brief reports on the coming club year through the courtesy of the various club presidents. Information regarding the clubs will be featured for the next few weeks as clubs resume their programs and meetings.

AAUW Branch Resumes Fall Meeting

Canyon Branch of the American Association of University Women will be under the leadership of Mrs. Jesse (JoEllen) Moses, 5220 Jean, Amarillo as the AAUW group resumes membership meetings this fall.

AAUW membership rules require that any woman holding a baccalaureate degree or higher degree from an institution of higher learning approved by AAUW can become active members of the group. Branch dues are $12 per year and membership chairman, Mrs. Ada Crager, 655-4709, or Mrs. Darrell Munsell, 655-3698, or the president, Mrs. Moses, 353-2066 may be contacted for further information.

Although meeting times vary, the branch chapter here meets on the first Saturday of each month from September through May with the exception of January.

Projects of the AAUW include a local scholarship to a female student at WTSU as well as contribution to the national scholarship program. For the past two years, the local branch has worked with local school principals to provide tutoring for local students needing help on a one-to-one basis.

"Global Interdependence: Budgeting For Earth" will be the study theme for the branch this year to include such programs as "Food For All" featuring Bob Sawvell as speaker in November, "World Market Perspectives for '75" in February with Jerry Miller speaking, a March discussion of "Nutrition For A Small Planet" with Jane Wheeler as guest speaker, and April's "Discovery Center" to be discussed by Jack Howarth.

Amateur Gardening Objective Of Club

"Begin where you are — with what you have" is the theme for the 1974 club year for the Canyon Garden Club which is currently under the leadership of Hazel Wells, president.

The Garden Club is affiliated with state, national and district gardening interest groups and locally participate in the Amarillo Graden Center at Amarillo.

Objective of the club is "stimulation of the knowledge of gardening among amateurs, and also aiding in the protection and conservation of our national resources," according to Mrs. Wells.

Club membership includes both men and women and presently includes 10 couple memberships and 11 individual members who are not husband-wife teams. Membership dues are $2 for individual, and $3.50 for couples.

The gardeners meet on the second Thursday night monthly from September through June involving various informative programs on gardening throughout the year as well as an annual foliage tour and a spring picnic. In past years, the Canyon Garden Club has visited the Amarillo Garden Center for various programs and special events as well as holding their own "garden show."

Club Yearbooks Needed

Clubwomen are reminded that yearbooks listing meetings, plans and projects for the coming club year should be furnished to the social desk of the Canyon News as soon as possible.

Yearbooks are a vital link to current happenings on the club scene. If your club does not print a yearbook, it would be to your advantage to furnish an accurate typed list showing the dates, time and subject of meetings and where they will be held each month for listing in the calendar.

Canyon Dames Welcome Community's Newcomers

Primary function of the Canyon Dames is to serve as an introductory gathering for newcomers with the group's meetings primarily devoted to pointing out the advantages of living in Canyon, according to Mrs. Douglas (Sharon) Williams, Canyon Dames president.

"Canyon Dames is unique in that the club's major role is to provide an opportunity for members to create lasting friendships," stated Mrs. Williams noting that the group presently has about 50 paid members.

Club life in the Canyon Dames includes such activities as social luncheons where guest speakers often present enlightening programs for the membership in all types of current events, the arts and sciences, and other informative discussions. At various times throughout the year, the club engages in tours to points of interest in the community and also aids the community through gifts of time and energy on worthwhile projects such as the Mother's March of Dimes.

Club members are given the opportunity to view new fashions, new makeup techniques, try new exercises and even take time out for cookie swap sessions and entertaining their husbands at socials during the year.

The Canyon Dames regularly meet once each month with membership fees being $3.00 per year. Anyone interested in joining may contact Mrs. Williams at 655-9783.

A current new interest in the club is a "craft interest group" which has been formed within the club and meets under the guidance of Mrs. Jack Teer, a member. The craft group meets once each month during the club year in the homes of various members.

Wives, Etc. Plan Year's Activities

Wives of administrators, faculty members and other staff members at West Texas State University as well as women in these same capacities at the university compose the membership of the Wives, Etc., which is currently under the leadership of Betsy Grillo, president.

Wives, Etc. holds monthly activities along with special interest groups in which members may participate according to their personal preferences. Interest groups for the membership include oil painting, home interests, art demonstration, bicycling, afternoon-or-evening bridge, gardening, knitting and crochet, luncheons, Koffee Klatsch groups, physical fitness, sewing and needlecraft, and swimming.

The main purpose of the organization of Wives, Etc. is for promotion of good fellowship and to provide organized activities in the interest of furtherance of the university, according to Mrs. Grillo.

Membership dues are $3.50 per year and all eligible for membership are urged to attend the first meeting of the group to be held Sept. 7 in Fellowship Hall of the Presbyterian Church at 9th Avenue and 19th Street in Canyon. The first meeting will begin at 10 a.m. as members gather for coffee and membership sign-up.

Wives, Etc. will continue meetings monthly through May with activities including several noted speakers, social events and dinner gatherings.

Working alongside Mrs. Grillo in offices of the group will be Mae Coffee, first vice president; Lou Anne Workman, second vice president; Bettye Winter, secretary; and Margaret Kelso, treasurer.

Chinese Couple Marries In Ceremony August 24

Su Chung Wang and Wen-Tse Chen pledged double ring wedding vows Saturday, Aug. 24, during the afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brown in Happy Glen, Canyon, Texas.

Officiating was J. W. McCulley, retired Baptist minister of Canyon. Nuptial selections were played by George Eason of Canyon.

The marriage ceremony was performed before the fireplace under a floral arch with Chinese lanterns, flanked by seven-branched candelabra.

A satin wedding gown featuring an overlaid bodice accent of lace and sheer full-length sleeves with cuffs of lace was worn by the bride for the occasion. The bridal train and matching front panel were satin with lace accents and edging. Her tiered veil was held to a coif of pearl complemented flowers and she carried a yellow floral bouquet.

Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Su-tan Wang of Boston, Massachusetts as the maid of honor and Mrs. Jean Galloway of Canyon as bridesmatron.

W. A. Morgan of Pampa served as best man and Elvis Lee of Canyon was groomsman for the occasion.

The wedding was followed with a reception at the Brown home. A three-tiered wedding cake accented the reception table which featured a centerpiece of yellow and white chrysanthemums. An imported cutwork tablecloth from Malaysia was used for the occasion.

Serving at the table were Mrs. George Eason and Mrs. W. A. Morgan. Also in the houseparty were Mrs. Edith Priddy, Mrs. Loudene West and Mrs. Elouise Wiginton of Canyon. Presiding at the guest book were Miss Rosalie Galloway and Miss Terri Galloway.

As the newlywed couple left on a wedding trip to Southern New Mexico, the bride wore a green and white double knit suit, which was a gift from the bridegroom's mother in Taiwan.

The couple will make their home in Mississippi after September 1 where he is presently attending the University of Mississippi planning to graduate in the spring of 1975 with a Master's Degree in Chemical Engineering. He earned his undergraduate degree from Tunghai University in Taiwan.

The bride is also a graduate of Tunghai University in Taiwan and graduated this month from West Texas State University in Canyon with a Master of Music degree.

Parents of the couple are residents of Taiwan. The bride is the daughter of I. C. Wang of Taipei, Taiwan and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Chen in Kaoshung, Taiwan.

BSP Sororities Have Gathering

A family picnic for Xi Kappa Zeta and Chi Upsilon chapters of Beta Sigma Phi sorority was held at the backyard of the Meade Michael home recently.

Following the picnic meal and homemade ice cream games including volleyball, horseshoes, croquet and trampoline were played by those attending.

Present were Buel and Sandie Martin, Bill and Kay Thomas and children, Nell and Carl Sims and sons, Marge Sharp and son, Monita and Speck Benham, Lewel and Juanita Johnston, Velta Hord and children and Meade and Sue Michael and Randy.

Sorority Life Rush To Begin On Campus

Greek life on the campus of West Texas State University at Canyon includes five campus sororities which will begin official "rush" on Aug. 26 when residence halls for sorority women and those eligible for "rush" will be allowed to move into their campus dormitories.

The moving in will begin at 1 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 26, according to Mary Lou Farnum, assistant dean of student life for women on campus. Cafeteria meals will be available beginning Tuesday and the Greek Rush activities will begin at 7 p.m. on move-in day with a "rush orientation session" to be held in the activities center ballroom. All rushees must attend this orientation meeting to be qualified for formal rush and thus far 136 girls have been signed up to participate in rush.

Campus Greek life includes sorority chapters for Alpha Delta Pi, Chi Omega, Delta Zeta, Kappa Delta, and Zeta Tau Alpha. To be eligible for rush at WT, beginning freshmen must be enrolled for 12 semester hours and all other women students must have earned a 1.0 grade point average for the previous long semester at the university, according to the assistant dean.

Pre-registration sessions have been held throughout the summer for beginning freshmen and parties and events are scheduled to begin Monday, Aug. 26, at 7 p.m. to run through Aug. 31. Information concerning rush will be presented to rushees during the orientation session Monday evening and Panhellenic Council representatives will be available to help where needed.

"Being a Greek and member of a fraternity or sorority," says Miss Farnum, "is a social experience based on the fundamental right of all free people to form voluntary associations and it is one of the extras of campus life."

Sororities and fraternities encourage better scholarship, self discipline and participation in worthwhile student activities. Greek students are oftentimes "very concerned about their world and the part they can play in it," says Miss Farnum. "Each sorority has its own service project and the Panhellenic participates in several. In one typical year, sororities on campus helped in the Multiple Sclerosis Drive, collected over $200 for the Campus Carol of Lights and helped to raise financing for new street signs at WTSU honoring students who were killed in action during the Vietnam War. Greeks are found to be full of concern and willing to help out where they can."

Although sororities are often known as the "social organizations" on campus it goes far beyond just hosting and attending parties and encompasses all the social graces such as tolerance and cooperation with others, and varied responsibilities.

"Being a Greek means," continued Miss Farnum, "that you must recognize each person is valuable to society not 'in spite of her differences' but 'because of her differences.' It means that believing in life is learning and learning is best done as a participant rather than a spectator.

"Greeks, as well as others, must believe that they have a unique talent possessed by no other individual and which all society can use in developing a better place for all to live," concluded the assistant dean.

Backyard Potluck Fetes Tour Group At Goodman Home

A backyard "pot luck" supper was held Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. A.K. Goodman honoring the tour group who went to Europe with her during June.

Those attending brought covered dishes, pictures and various things purchased in Europe to share with others. The group "talked about the trip" and listened to tapes made by Joe Gibson on the trip which included the guide's comments, the devotional by Mrs. William Wimberley on the bus ride and the Sunday morning singing of the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bentley and son, Ellis, came from Dallas for the occasion. Others attending who went on the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gibson, Mrs. Lenna Parker, Mrs. Beffie Foster, Mrs. Agnes Braudson, Mrs. Gladys Dowell, Mrs. Polly Alexander, Mrs. Bonnie Hinger, Mrs. Shirley Slack, Mrs. Caroline Tilger, Mrs. Willie Wimberley, Miss Kathy Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Richardson, and Eddie Henderson.

Other guests were Bryce Slack, Jim and Lori, Mike Tilger, Ben Richardson, Bill Wimberley, Carolyn Scott and Cindy Podzemny.

Mrs. Goodman discussed with the group plans for three trips to be made next year including one to Spain, another to Europe and one to include both Norway and Sweden.

Detten Family Holds Reunion

The Detten family gathered in the St. Francis Hall, Aug. 11 for their 63rd annual reunion. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Detten and their 7 children came from Illinois to the Panhandle in 1907. There were 10 members at the first reunion in 1911 and now there are around 350 descendants.

Robert of Amarillo and Leo of Panhandle are the only surviving children. Mrs. John Detten of Amarillo was the oldest member present and Nicholaus Laurence Kuehler, 2-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kuehler of Groom and grandson of Leo Detten of Panhandle was the youngest member in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Deek Detten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Detten, and their children, Kabeth, Mark, Mary Myles, Brenda and Carol of Ponca City, Okla. came the farthest for the reunion.

Present for the reunion were: Mrs. John Detten and sons, Charles and Joseph and families of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Detten and sons and families; the Dick Dettens of Ponca City; the Tom Dettens of Claude; the Ray Dettens and Joe Dettens of Amarillo; Leo Detten and son Floyd, of Panhandle and other children; the Clarence Winks of Amarillo; the Robert Kuehlers of Groom; the Donald Dettens of Claude; the Ralph Dettens and Paul Dettens and Irene Lewis and children, all of Panhandle.

Others present were: Mrs. and Mrs. Clarence Bertrands and sons; Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Neusch and family, Fred and Donna Britten all of St. Francis; and Larry and Marjie Heymer of Wildorado; James and Danny Looten, Leonard Neusch, Valerie Friemel of Umbarger; Mrs. M. Wink and Leo Neusch of St. Francis.

Canyon Teachers On Evaluation Team

Four members of the Canyon Independent School District faculty will be a part of the evaluation team that will study the public school system in Levelland Sept. 16-18.

Members of the team from Canyon will be Dr. Ken Hart, Tom Jennings, Vondean McGregor and Mrs. Mary Jane Reeves. They will join teachers and administrators from schools of various size located in the Panhandle for the study.

Canyon schools were visited by an evaluation team last year.

50th Wedding Anniversary Observed

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Bonds

G. J. and Inez Bonds were honored on their 50th Anniversary with a luncheon at the Hill N' Dale Restaurant at Bella Vista, Arkansas, August 11, 1974. The occasion was for the immediate family with their children as hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonds are parents of six children: Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bonds; Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Bonds, Jr. of Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bonds of Rogers, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wayne Bonds of Bartlesville, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Bolain and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bonds of Bentonville, Ark. Ten grandchildren: Mr. and Mrs. "Shug" Bonds, Maurine and Linda Bonds of Canyon; David and Alisa Bonds of Bartlesville, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bonds, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Alton Barnes, Larry Dean Bonds, Jarrett and Curtis Bolain of Bentonville, Ark. Three great-grandchildren: Chad and Derrick Bonds of Canyon and Jeff Bonds of Bentonville, Ark. All families, with the exception of the G. J. Bonds, Jr. family, were able to attend the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonds were married in Carlton, Texas, on August 13, 1924. They made their home near Canyon and began farming and ranching until 1952 when they moved to a farm west of Rogers, Ark. In November, 1959, they moved to their present address, 327 Crestview Drive, Bentonville. Mr. Bonds entered the real estate business full-time after moving to Bentonville and retired in 1972.

In Texas Mr. Bonds was a school board member for eight years and a member of the ASC Board for almost 20 years. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge at Happy.

Since being in Bentonville, he has served as mayor, 1966-1970, and served on the Executive Committee of the Arkansas Municipal League for three years. He is also a member of the Kiwanis Club, a member of the board of directors of Citizens Bank, a member of the City Council, a former board member of the Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the First Baptist Church.

City's Water Treatment Facility Toured By Heritage Woman's Club

The City of Canyon's water treatment plant was toured by a group of members from the Heritage Woman's Club Monday evening with Robert Rogers, water and sewer superintendent for the city, conducting the indepth tour.

Rogers explained to the group that the plant receives about 800,000 gallons of water to be treated each day and that the treatment cycle takes about eight days before the water is released into Tierra Blanca Creek.

"The effluent (when released into the creek) is pure enough for fish life and later it is hoped that the recycling process will include using the water for irrigation purposes," Rogers reported to the women.

Water from the plant is tested eight times weekly to meet prevailing standards. The plant has been in operation since 1971 and was designed to serve a population load of 13,000 persons reported Rogers.

Following the tour, the Heritage Woman's Club members reconvened at the home of Mrs. Larry Brandon, 1102 Creekmere, for a short business meeting where roll call was answered with "personal conservation practices" as members shared their ideas on conserving energy and various recycling hints.

The members discussed a membership style show to be held at Deon's in Canyon Monday evening, Aug. 26, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Fall fashions will be modeled and prospective new members are invited for the occasion. The next business meeting for the HWC will be Sept. 16.

During Monday's business session, Mrs. Ron Thomason was named ways and means chairman replacing Mrs. Wayne Ray, who has moved from the city. The program display by Mrs. Carl Hollabaugh, art department chairman, was devoted to a display of children's classics from the Canyon City Library. Mrs. Hollabaugh urged the members to "acquaint their children with the old classics as well as the books by current authors."

The meeting was concluded with members making decorations to be used for the club's Talent Show to be staged in early 1975.

Hostesses were Mrs. Larry Brandon, Mrs. Eugene Colgan and Mrs. George Loudder. Others present were guests, Mrs. Mike McAtee and Mrs. Henry Meyer; and club members including Mesdames Nick Cavrick, John Plank, Ronnie Gordon, Orrell Vise, Olan Lehman, Carl Hollabaugh, Phil Pennington, Jimmy Marrs, Joel Oliver, Ron Thomason, Virginia Cotton and Lynda Looney.

HOME TOUR posters will be going up throughout Canyon soon to remind residents of the upcoming University Study Club sponsored "tour" which will give an inside look at several homes in the city. The calico lettered poster is shown with, from left, Mrs. John Childs, president of the federated woman's club, Mrs. Harold Erwin and Mrs. Weldon McClure. The "home tour" has been scheduled to be held October 13.

1925 Bridge Club Has Afternoon Meet

Mrs. Glenn Dowlen was hostess for the 1925 Bridge Club meeting held Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Wilton Manley at 1413 Creekmere.

A dessert course and coffee were served. Those attending were Mesdames Virginia Allen, Herschell Coffee, Madison Daugherty, Roscoe Davis, Mitchell Jones, Tom Knighton, Iverson Leake, Milton Morris, A. H. Prichard, Lonnie Byars, Jewel Hill and guest, Mrs. Bailey McCormick.

"Melted Glass Accents" Topic Of Porcelain Club

"Melted Glass Accents" was the topic of a demonstration given by Mrs. Lewis Morrison and Mrs. J.M. Justiss at the regular monthly meeting of Palo Duro Porcelain Art Club of Canyon.

The meeting was held Friday at Hi-Plains Baptist Assembly Grounds, northwest of the city, with Mrs. B.E. Robertson as hostess.

The program demonstration featured a tile which had been painted and fired prior to the meeting and the demonstration consisted of adding small bits of colored glass of different sizes on the tiles for accents. The tiles were then fired during the meeting in a small kiln thus giving members an added lesson on melted glass firing. The program was originally scheduled to be presented by Mrs. Lynn Bennett, who was unable to attend.

A covered dish luncheon was served and the business meeting was then called to order by the president, Mrs. Lewis Morrison. Reports were given by each committee chairman as members were urged to take their painted china to the Tri-State Fairgrounds Sept. 14 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Student work will be judged this year and teacher's painted china will be on exhibit during fair week.

Next meeting for the club will be Sept. 20 in the home of Mrs. C.D. Taylor at Happy where Mrs. Barbara Maupin of Dallas will be guest artist giving painting on enamel ware and jewelry as the demonstration subject.

Attending the recent luncheon meeting were Mesdames Charles Donnell, Jack Jennings, Lewis Morrison, Harvey Todd, Garland Toney, J.M. Justiss, R.S. Francy, Ernest White, Melvin May and the hostess, Mrs. Robertson, along with guests, Mrs. Alice McDade and Mrs. Mae Hubbard of Dumas.

Graduation Tea Honors Mrs. Lee

Mrs. Robert Lee of White Deer was honored with a Graduation Tea following the West Texas State University graduation ceremonies.

Mrs. Lee received her degree in English with a minor in biology and psychology.

She was honored with the tea in the home of her sister, Mrs. Deryl C. Evans, in Canyon where refreshments included appetizers, tea sandwiches, dips, chips, cake, punch and other party trimmings.

Attending the occasion for Mrs. Lee were her husband, Robert, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dee Smith and Mickiel of Kress; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lee, Bill and Caroline of Tulia; Mrs. Gary Lee of Kress; Mr. and Mrs. Milton C. Evans of Floydada and the host couple, the Deryl C. Evans.

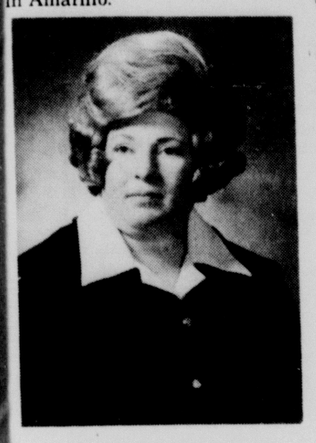
New Faculty Named At University

Nearly a dozen new faculty members are scheduled to take their places on the podium this fall when the term opens at West Texas State University.

Most of them are scheduled to fill positions in the rapidly-growing department of nursing.

They include:

GEORGIA LOU BARROW — Ms. Barrow, a graduate of the Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing, will be an instructor in the nursing department. During several spring months last spring she was clinical instructor for the university and has been a staff nurse at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo.



PATSY RUTH HEACOCK — A recent graduate of WTSU, Ms. Heacock will be an instructor in the nursing department. She was an instructor last year also, on loan from the Amarillo Hospital District. She has also worked as a nurse at Austin State Hospital and at St. Paul Hospital.

ELLA MAE HERRIAGE — A graduate of Tulane University with an MPH degree, Ms. Herriage will be an instructor in the nursing department. She has been an instructor at the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing and has also worked with the health departments in Plainview and Lubbock.

CHARLES D. LARSEN — Larsen will also be a part of the nursing faculty. He is a graduate of Ball State University in Indiana with a masters degree in psychology and has pursued other graduate studies at the University of Florida, University of Minnesota and Sacramento City College. He has been a continuing education instructor for both WTSU and Amarillo College.

MARY J. SCHILLING — Ms. Schilling will be a part of the faculty of the department of nursing. A graduate of the University of Arizona with a masters degree, Ms. Schilling has worked at Texas Tech School of Medicine and hospitals in Fort Scott, Kan., and El Dorado, Ark.

SUE RAE SCHRIER — Ms. Schrier will be a bassoon instructor in the music department. She received a master of music degree from the University of Michigan last May and has taught at Grand Valley State College and Calvin College.

MARY ELIZABETH SHELDON — Ms. Sheldon will be an instructor in the department of sociology. She received her Ph.D. in 1967 from the University of Washington and has taught at Rice University, Southern Methodist University, and has been a teaching assistant at the University of Missouri and the University of Washington. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, she has been a research associate or research consultant at Methodist Hospital, the Southwest Center for Urban Research and the University of Missouri.

VIRGINIA RODGERS SICOLA — Ms. Sicola will be an instructor in the nursing department. She received a masters degree from Texas Woman's University in 1974 and has specialized in medical-surgical nursing. She was an instructor at Hermann Hospital School of Nursing.

RAUL H. SOLIS — Solis, a graduate of Our Lady of Lake College with a master of social work degree in May 1974, will teach in the sociology department. He has been drug education facilitator at Trinity University and an instructor at Our Lady of Holy Cross College. In addition, he has been a consultant to the Mexican American Neighborhood Civic Organization, a coordinator for the People's Community Development Corporation, and a counsellor for the San Antonio Neighborhood Youth Organization.

SARA J. STONE — Ms. Stone, who received her bachelors degree from the University of New Mexico in 1970, will be an instructor in the journalism department. She has been assistant city editor of the Amarillo Globe-News.

TEXAS Triangles

"TEXAS" attendance count stood at 86,836 persons for the 1974 summer season at the close of the performance of the musical drama Thursday evening, Aug. 22, when three guests from Thailand were recognized for traveling the farthest to attend.

The three Thailand guests were presented with the traditional triangles given at intermission. Special guests at Thursday's performance were Peter and Perry Williams from the Alabama Coushatta Indian Reservation who were here in preparation for opening their own outdoor drama next year. Attendance that evening was registered at 1326 for the performance including the Prospector's Club and church groups from Amarillo, Friona and Liberal, Kan.

On Aug. 16 as 1709 persons watched the outdoor drama in Pioneer Amphitheatre Myra Johnson and family from Kerala, South India received the triangle. The audience included church groups from Odessa, Clovis, Canadian, Amarillo, Petersburg, the Indian Dancers of Westlake, Fla., a 4-H group from Elida, N.M. and the Coronado Arts and Crafts group along with a tour group from the Louisiana Homemakers.

Mr. K. Pal of India received the Aug. 17 triangle from among 1810 persons in the audience. Tour groups from San Antonio, Dallas and Shreveport were present along with church groups from Clovis, and Dallas.

Six guests registered from India to receive the Aug. 19 triangle as the crowd numbered 1734 with church groups from Melrose, N.M., Denton, Lubbock and Dallas.

On Aug. 20, 1656 persons watched the musical drama and saw V.J. and A.K. Mittal of India receive the distance triangle. Groups that evening were some senior citizens from Artesia, N.M. and church delegations from Snyder and Amarillo.

Wen Tse Chen of Taiwan received the Aug. 21 triangle from an audience numbering 1,490 with the guest delegation being some Chinese students. Cloudy weather during the day and threatening thundershowers only dampened the show for a ten minute break that evening.

I-27 Hearing Set Sept. 5

Official notice was received this week that a design public hearing on construction of Interstate Highway 27, which will bypass Canyon to the east, will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Sept. 5 at the activities center on the West Texas State University campus.

The hearing will be conducted by the Texas Highway Department to discuss the construction of the highway, the possible schedule for construction and the terms of right-of-way purchase.

Maps and drawings showing the design of the highway will be available for public inspection.

The state's relocation assistance program for residents whose homes lie in the right-of-way path of the highway project will be discussed by officials. All interested citizens are invited to the hearing.

Dinner Tuesday For CCTA Group

Canyon Classroom Teachers Association will have a get-acquainted dinner Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. at the Canyon Junior High School cafeteria.

The dinner gathering will include teachers from high school, junior high and elementary levels along with the school administrators and school board members who will be special guests.

Defensive Driving Course Offered Here

"Defensive Driving" will be a special course offered all local drivers in early September during two special evening courses at the Canyon Community Center.

Larry McClendon of the Department of Public Safety will serve as instructor for the courses to be held on Sept. 9 and again Sept. 11 from 6-10 p.m.

Drivers participating in the course who receive certification may then apply to their insurance company for reduced rates.

All drivers (young, old and in-between) are urged to participate in the course. Certification charge will be $1.75 and the defensive driver handbooks are 75 cents.

Those desiring to enroll should call 655-9662 to be listed or stop by the Canyon Police Department by noon on Sept. 9 to enroll as the handbooks must be available for all participants at the first session to be held that evening.

Canyon Church Life

Choir members of the First Christian Church of Canyon will have a pot-luck covered dish dinner Wednesday evening, Aug. 28, at 1110 6th Avenue. The group will gather at 6:30 p.m. and after the meal will dismiss to the church for the first fall session of choir practice.

First Presbyterian Church of Canyon will be acting on the employment of a new church organist this morning, Aug. 25, at 9:30 a.m. The retiring organist, Janna Hogan, has recently moved with her husband, Jim, to Pampa where he is to be employed with the public school system.

The Buckhorn Children's Center in Appalachia will benefit from proceeds gained on bazaar items made by the first and second grade levels at the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon. The bazaar will be set up during an old fashioned church social to be held at noon today, Aug. 25, at the church. The gathering will include country cooking, the crafts, old-time hymn singing and visitation for church members and guests.

Youth of the First Christian Church will present their multi-media presentation on "Reconciliation" this morning at 11 a.m. at the services of the First Presbyterian Church. The two-screen projection with musical background was developed by the youth for the Hi-Plains Convention of the Christian Church in Texas.

Kindergarten classes for the First United Methodist Church have been re-scheduled to begin Sept. 3. Both three and four year olds will be included in the class to be taught by Mrs. Milton Johnson. Early registration is encouraged by calling Mrs. Johnson, 655-7689, or the church office, 655-3540.

Central Church of Christ will conduct a "home study" class beginning Aug. 28 with Bob Shepard, campus minister, and Tom Chapin, associate campus minister, teaching. The class is open to all interested members and will be a forerunner for a community visitation program to precede the opening of the new church building.

Promotion day for the nursery and elementary departments of the First United Methodist Church of Canyon will be held during morning worship hour today, Aug. 25.

Bible study Wednesday evening at 7:45 p.m. at Calvary Baptist Church of Canyon will be "Romans: Book of Power."

The First United Methodist Church of Canyon reports that only $36,750.00 worth of church bonds remain to be sold and are available at the church office, 655-3540.

Rev. Terry White, pastor of the First Christian Church of Canyon will instruct a course in the Basics in Biblical Theology beginning Sept. 5 at the church. The course is open to all interested community residents and enrollments are presently being taken at the church office, 655-3512.

Members of the Senior High United Methodist Youth Fellowship will convene at the church Sunday to make plans for their fall programs and activities. All interested youths are invited to participate in the UMYF activities at the church.

Mrs. Burney Slack recently attended the Woman's Missionary Union conference at Glorieta, N.M. She is the WMU director for First Baptist Church of Canyon.

A "deacon-pastor retreat" will be held Aug. 30-31 at the High Plains Baptist Assembly grounds for those of the First Baptist Church of Canyon with participation beginning at 7 p.m. Fee for the retreat will be $4.50.

"The Master Plan of Battle" from the text of Judges Chapter 7 will be the subject of the 11 a.m. worship services of Southside Baptist Church of Canyon today, Aug. 25, as Rev. Jimmy Rogers speaks. The ten basic steps to Christian maturity is the current Sunday School subject to be presented at 9:45 a.m. Goals and recommendations for the new year's church activities will be discussed in depth at a pastor-deacon's meeting to be held immediately following the evening service which begins at 7 p.m.

An after-church fellowship for youth at the First Baptist Church of Canyon will be held in fellowship hall tonight, Aug. 25. The fellowship will be hosted by members of the Married Young Adults class.

The Dwyane Dennis family has returned to Canyon following a vacation time spent in San Leandro, Calif. and in Littlefield where they visited parents and friends. Dennis is minister for the Central Church of Christ in Canyon.

Promotion Sunday will be held at the First Baptist Church of Canyon today, Aug. 25, at the morning services as the church begins a new year.

The Heating Energy Source Of The Future

ELECTRICITY

The most practical alternative to the problems that go with individual supplies of scarce fuels. Turn to electric heating, and you won't be locked into long-term dependence on fuels which face very uncertain times. Our local supply of electricity is not decreasing but rather increasing. With the installation of more generating units and using coal as an alternate fuel supply we are assured of at least 100 years of ample electricity for our area. In light of this fact we recommend to our customers the installation of a:

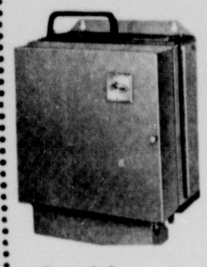
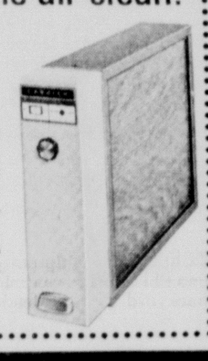
Add a helpful humidifier.



... when it's cold outside, your house is dry inside. And if the air becomes too dry, you and your house can suffer. It's easy to add moisture but don't add too much. Get a Carrier humidifier — either furnace or duct type — that's designed right, sized right.

And keep the air clean.



Install a Carrier Electronic Air Cleaner. It traps the most minute, even microscopic, airborne particles and collects them on toss away filter pads. Competitive units may require washing of dirt collection cells. Only Carrier units combine top performance with top convenience.

City Student Graduates

A Southwest Texas State University student from Canyon was among the 817 summer degree candidates who received diplomas from the university Saturday Aug. 17 in Strahan Gym.

The Canyon SWTSU degree recipient was Mary Lou Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Parks of 2613 13th Ave. She received her bachelor's degree in elementary education. She was a member of Kappa Delta Pi honor education society.

The August graduates heard Dr. Lee H. Smith, who became president of SWTSU July 15, deliver the keynote commencement address.

Among the degree candidates were 189 masters degree applicants and 628 seeking bachelors degrees.

Lloyd To Leave ASCS Position

Donald F. Lloyd, county executive director of the USDA Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office in Canyon for 10 years, will leave Sept. 1 to begin work with the Texas State ASCS office in College Station.

Lloyd, a native of Parmer County, worked in the ASCS office there for about two years and has also worked in the Presidio-Jeff Davis office.

No replacement has yet been named.

Lloyd and his wife, Myrna, have two children, Mike 11, and Pam, 9.

School Holiday Set

The Canyon Independent School District will observe Labor Day holiday on Sept. 2. There will be no classes in the local school system. Students and teachers will return to classes on Tuesday Sept. 3.

Demand For Nurses Up

As the demand for trained health care practitioners has increased, especially in the rural areas, so has the applications to fill the ever-tightening slots in medical training institutions.

One of the newest and fastest-growing curriculums on the West Texas State University campus is the Department of Nursing. Under the careful guidance of Dr. Hazel Aslakson, the department is prepared to supply graduates able to meet the needs in many areas.

"We are preparing a practitioner whom we feel will be able to give care in all settings," Dr. Aslakson said. "Particularly in this part of the world, in the Panhandle, there are great opportunities for nurses to work out in the community, not just in the family health centers, but to do a lot more in the community than perhaps nurses have done in the past."

This is a new direction nursing curriculum has taken in the last few years. A scarcity of doctors has forced nurses to re-define their role as service beyond that in a hospital.

"There are many things outside of the hospital that are of value," she said. Dr. Aslakson could foresee outreach clinics headed by nurses supplying a majority of the health care that would have regular visits from one doctor.

"The focus in our senior year is primarily community nursing," Dr. Aslakson observed. Students, however, receive training in many areas, including pediatrics, psychiatric and maternity. The first senior class to graduate under the new WTSU integrated baccalaureate degree program will be in May, 1975.

Three types of nursing degrees are offered in the United States: the associate, the diploma, and the baccalaureate: each taking two, three, and four years, respectively.

Dr. Aslakson finds the baccalaureate degree curriculum at West Texas State University desirable because its graduate "has a better general education in a university setting," and has the chance to interact with other kinds of students.

A WTSU nursing enrollee will not be scheduled for a nursing course until the sophomore level. The heaviest load does not come until the junior and senior levels, when the time spent in clinical experience in regional hospitals and other health organizations rises to 24 hours per week.

"We like to relate theory (taught in class) to practice," Dr. Aslakson noted. "The students are assigned to the same kind of thing that they are learning at that time.

"We like to have a ratio of 1:3 or 1:4 of theory to practice," the department head said. The faculty-student ratio is kept low — the junior level having one faculty member for every 10 students, and the senior level as 1:12.

Dr. Aslakson, who received her Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Maryland, has "taught everything" in the field of nursing. Before coming to WTSU, she worked in the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare as chief of the project grant section in the Division of Nursing.

Visiting earlier this summer in Canyon were former residents, Jackie Whitley, and his wife, the former Wanda Bourn of the city. The Whitleys were accompanied by their children, Joy, 9, and Jamey, 4, as they visited locally with a number of friends and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bourn. In Colorado, Whitley is the manager of Furr's Cafeteria in Aurora.

Local Vet Attends Meet

Local veterinarians have just returned to Canyon after attending the fifth annual seminar for veterinarians held at Texas A&M University's College of Veterinary Medicine Aug. 10-13.

The seminar is a continuing education concept for practicing veterinarians in a number of specialized fields. More than 150 representing 90 communities in three states attended.

Attending locally was David T. Bechtol, Box 974.

Enrollment Reaches 3165 In Schools

Enrollment in the Canyon Independent School District reached 3165 as of Friday according to Jerry Jacobs, superintendent of Canyon schools.

Jacobs expects 75 to 80 more students prior to the first of the year.

Enrollment at the various schools includes 961 at Rex Reeves Elementary, 534 at Gene Howe Elementary, 892 at Canyon Junior High and 778 at Canyon High School.

Pollution To Be Eyed

Ever wonder whether all the talk about the harmful effects of pesticides, preservatives, food coloring and other chemicals in foods was true?

West Texas State University Chemistry Professor Alfred Schram is offering a new course this fall, "Environmental Chemistry," 210-1, which will not only discuss the problems created by the evergrowing number of chemicals in our environment, but pose some possible solutions, too.

"We will study the chemicals which accumulate in our environment and what effects they can have on us," Schram says. "We will also study some popular vitamins and minerals — those that sometimes can have dilatory effects."

The course, to be taught on the WTSU campus on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings at 10 a.m., has a prerequisite of either one year of high school chemistry or one semester of college chemistry.

Concerned individuals register Aug. 30 and 31, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. For more information, contact the dean of admissions and registrar.

With remodeling that is taking place at several churches in Canyon, this nostalgic look at the past is appropriate. On the left is the Baptist Church of Canyon as it looked when built in 1899. The church building served the congregation until 1927. In 1910 Sunday School classrooms were added to the pictured structure. The building was erected on the corner of Thirteenth Street and Fourth Avenue. The First Baptist Church of Canyon is presently entering a re-modeling program which will include several changes in their auditorium. On the right is the First Christian Church of Canyon. The church, which was located on the corner of Fifth Avenue and Tenth Street, was built at about the same time of the Baptist Church. The First Christian Church is preparing to move into the building presently occupied by the Central Church of Christ. The Church of Christ congregation will be moving to their new building in the Taylor-Foster addition. These pictures appeared on post cards which were sold at the City Pharmacy when Joe Foster was proprietor.

American Revolution To Be Eyed

We are going to try and understand what went wrong between Britain and the colonies that caused the American Revolution, the West Texas State University historian said. The American colonies were probably the freest in the world. There shouldn't have been a revolution.

To further public awareness of the upcoming American Bicentennial celebration, two outstanding West Texas State University history professors will offer a "one-of-a-kind" course "American Revolution Bicentennial: English and American Perspectives" Monday evenings this fall in Canyon.

Drs. Charles Townsend and F. Darrell Munsell, the course instructors, promise to investigate what was happening on both sides of the ocean. Townsend is an expert on American revolutionary history, the subject covered by his doctoral dissertation. Munsell has also extensively studied the British side of the story.

"The years 1974 and 1975 are the 200th anniversary of the Intolerable Acts, the first Continental Congress, and Lexington and Concord," Townsend noted.

The subjects to be covered include the analyzation of the dissenters to their country's actions in each land, the transfer of political thoughts and ideas across the ocean, and the amazing intellectual personalities such as John Adams and Ben Franklin that helped shape the course of events.

Also to be discussed, Townsend said, will be "Why, since we had fought such a great war, we are closer to England than anyone else."

The course requirements entail lecture attendance, class discussion, a research paper, the reading of books and essays, and several exams, Townsend said.

Registration for History 399-3, The American Revolution Bicentennial: English and American Perspectives, will be Aug. 30-31 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. according to the regular registration schedule in the WTSU Activities Center.

The course will be held Mondays from 7 p.m. to 9:40 p.m. in the Old Administration Building.

For more information, contact the Dean of Admissions and Registrar, WTSU, telephone 656-3331.

Geology Courses Due Night Offering

The Department of Geology and Anthropology at West Texas State University will offer four evening courses and one Saturday morning course during this fall semester.

Physical Geology 101, taught by Dr. Gerald Schultz on Monday and Wednesday evenings beginning at 7 p.m., will cover the natural environment of man, including materials, structure and processes of the earth. The course will be held in the new Science Center on the WTSU campus.

Dr. James Underwood, Jr., will conduct a senior level course in Petroleum Geology (402) Tuesday evenings beginning at 7 p.m. in the Science Center. Participants will analyze the origin, occurrence, exploration and production of oil and gas.

The Geology of North America (412) is an advanced undergraduate course to be presented by Dr. Franklin Daugherty on Wednesdays beginning at 7 p.m. in the Science Center. He will discuss the general physiographic, stratigraphic, structural igneous and metamorphic geology of North America.

American Ethnology 301, a study of the American Indian of the historic period, will be presented by Dr. Jack Hughes in the Buffalo Courts building Tuesdays beginning at 7 p.m.

A graduate level course, Principles of Petroleum Engineering (5892), will cover various kinds of oil and gas reservoirs, and will be taught by Dr. Jack Bullock Saturday mornings in the University Complex South.

Registration will be from 10:40 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, August 31, in the WTSU Activities Center. Late registrants may enroll at the Registrar's Office from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 3, through Friday, Sept. 6, and from 8-9 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 7. For more information, contact the Dean of Admissions and Registrar, telephone 656-3331.

Further information concerning these offerings in adult education may be obtained by calling the Department of Geology and Anthropology at 656-2581.

Churches Ending Summer With Activities

Several city churches are currently making plans to end the summer vacation with picnics, retreats and campouts for members of their churches.

An overnight campout is set for Friday evening, Aug. 30, by the Grace Baptist Church of Canyon. The members will spend the night camped in Palo Duro Canyon, according to Richard Korsmo, pastor.

On Sept. 7, the First Christian Church will have a membership retreat at Ceta Glen encampment.

An all-church picnic is set for Sunday, Sept. 8, by the First United Methodist Church of Canyon. The First Presbyterian Church members will convene that same evening at 5:30 p.m. at Conner Park for a church picnic.

Open Meeting Monday For "Scouting" Here

Visitation will be held Monday evening, Aug. 26, for parents, scouts and prospective scouters from age 10½ through 18.

The open meeting will be sponsored by Boy Scout Troop 31 and will be held at fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m., according to Shug Bonds, scoutmaster.

"Any boy who is at least 10½ or in the fifth grade is eligible to join the scouting program," stated Bonds as he welcomed prospective scouts, their parents, and all interested persons to attend the meeting.

Members of Mrs. Townsend's first grade class at Rex Reeves Elementary School got an unusual treat on the second day of school. Prior to the start of school Mrs. Townsend broke her foot and a cast was placed on it. Her students signed the cast following their lunch period Thursday.

Accounting Courses Due WT Offering

The West Texas State University Department of Accounting is offering 117 hours of extensive review in accounting practice, auditing and business law to prepare interested individuals for the Certified Public Accountant's exam to be offered on campus Nov. 4.

The accounting practice review, consisting of 84 hours, will meet from 7-10 p.m. on Monday and Thursday, and 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. on Saturday, starting Sept. 2 on the Canyon campus.

The instructors will be Dr. A. Mitchell, CPA; L. Trekell, MBE; D. Hall, CPA; J. Davis, CPA; J. Rhodes, CPA; and Dr. P. Gowens.

Topics to be covered include accounting fundamentals, financial statements, cash versus accrual basis, correction of errors, incomplete records, current assets, statement of changes in financial position, production costs, investments and branch accounting, fixed assets, ownership equities and taxation.

Approximately 15 hours of auditing will be offered on Tuesdays from 7-10 p.m. beginning Sept. 3. Instructed by A. Glover, CPA, and A. Mitchell, CPA, the course review will cover ethics, statement on auditing standards, auditing E.D.P. systems, statistical sampling, internal control, audit programs and legal liability.

In the business law review, which will meet on Tuesdays from 7-10 p.m. starting Oct. 8 for 18 hours, instructor Art Glover will cover contracts, personal property, commercial paper, agency, business organization, security transactions, bankruptcy, wage-hour, antitrust and investors protection act. An extra session on one Friday will be held.

Advanced registration is requested. Fees of $100 for the accounting practice, $40 for the auditing, and $40 for the business law reviews will be charged. A minimum deposit of $10 is due with the advanced registration, with the balance due on Sept. 2.

For more information, contact the Department of Accounting, WTSU, telephone 656-3754.
